

THE OTHER YOKO

The Yoko Miwa Trio

Following her spectacular spring debut at New York's famed Blue Note jazz club, pianist Yoko Miwa is on a roll. A native of Kobe, Japan, Miwa won a scholarship to attend Berklee College of Music, where she was appointed assistant professor in 2011. A year later, her trio released its major label debut, "Act Naturally," on JVC Victor Entertainment, one of six albums she has released on Japanese labels. Miwa, who is classically trained, studied jazz in Japan with Minoru Ozone, the father of pianist Makoto Ozone. His advice: learn everything by ear. Now, Miwa's elegant, simple, straight-ahead style has the ear of critics and jazz audiences around the world. Released in 2011, her trio's most accomplished CD "Live at Scullers Jazz Club" has been described as "picture perfect" by Marc Myers on JazzWax. Myers also notes Miwa's originals, Mr. B.G. and Silent Promise, "which build with passion and grace." The album was chosen as among the Best CDs of 2011 by JazzTimes. Rounding out the trio are acoustic bassist Will Slater and drummer Scott Goulding.
